

BANNed From the DOME ...

November 14, 1991

Dear MRD's:

Well we are on the way to Indianapolis to participate in one of the greatest marching band shows in America. This will be a great weekend with performances by 50 of the outstanding bands, the Marine Drum and Bugle Corps, Chick Corea, and most importantly the Marching Royal Dukes.

This is our second time to be honored as the featured band at the Bands of America Grand National Championship. The show Saturday night will be truly one of those highlights of your life and one that you will remember for a long time.

We are fortunate to have this great opportunity and we want to make the most of this weekend. So let's have a great time, but let's show America why the Marching Royal Dukes are VIRGINIA'S FINEST!

Sincerely,

Dr. Pat Rooney
Director of Bands

SUPERLATIVES!!

The ego award went to too many sections this year, so we decided to skip it.

Percussion: Most likely to reach Indianapolis first.
Flutes: Most likely to be blonde (at least in attitude!)
Clarinet: Most likely to join another section next year.
Saxophone: Most likely to be mistaken for brass.
Baritone: Most likely to have played another instrument.
Mellophone: Most likely to be clueless.
Trombone: Most likely to have diverse personalities.
Trumpet: Most likely to have only half of a section song.
Guard: Most likely to be flexible.
Tubas: Most likely to run around the field like crazy people
Staff: Most likely to have a bag of lollipops on hand.
Drum Majors: Most likely to be seen from the back.
Debbie: Most likely to be cold.

THE SEMESTER IN REVIEW

At the beginning of the season, two freshmen were competing for the affections of a certain trombone player...it's been rumored that a TBS Iota is working her way down the trombone section...a certain guard member has been watching a trombone player very carefully (hint:he's not a door!)...a sickeningly sweet relationship has sprung up between a trombonist and a baritone player...one of the baritone section leaders is being targeted by a clarinet player-but then again, who isn't she targeting? Another clarinet player is carrying on several relationships at once, while still another one prefers the long distance relations. Moving up to the front hash, we discover a trumpet section leader who seems permanently joined to a guard member. Aren't they cute? Another trumpet player is constantly seen with a flute section leader...one flute player really appreciates those drummer, while another enjoys good sax. The flutes may make history this year--could we have a flute/guard relationship in the works? And how about those guard members? We hear that a flute player is constantly having to save a mellophone from unwanted guard attention. Isn't that special! At least the guard can eat now! Another mellophone player was heard saying "That cute... (insert trumpet name here)." One of the sax section

We're sure Indy will bring more hook-ups, break-ups and all kinds of ups, but that's all the gossip for now. If you didn't like what you saw here (or didn't see), we are sorry. We don't make the news, we just report it! Have a great time at INDY!!!

This image shows a single sheet of white paper with horizontal blue or grey ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and run across the width of the page. There are approximately 20 lines visible. The paper appears to be a standard notebook page.

Some "Old Favorite" to play on the way to the dome.

Geography

Take turns naming geographical locations such as states, countries etc. Players must respond with other places that begin with the last letter of the word the player before them said.

**may use other topics

Roadside Alphabet

Search for words on billboards and signs that begin with letters of the alphabet starting with A and going in order.

Twenty Questions

One player chooses something to be (animal, vegetable, or mineral). The other player(s) gets to ask 20 yes or no questions in order to guess what the other is.

We went on a band trip and We took...

Start with this phrase and list as many item from A-Z all the things you would take (apples, blankets, coolers, etc.)

I never...

One player says I never...(fill in blank). The other player who have done what is said have to do something determined by the other players :).

License Plate Poker

The first player gets his first 3 "cards" from the license plate of the first car passing by (use only letters K,Q,J, or A.) The second 2 "cards" are from the next car. This continues until all have 5 "cards". Play as in real poker.

Thumper

Everyone playing makes up there own sign or gesture for themselves. Then the players slap both hands twice on their laps then clap twice and repeat. One player starts by making their sign and then the sign of the other player. Whosever sign was just made must continue as the first player did. A player is "out" when they fail to recognize their sign, or forget someone elses.

Senior Wills!

I, Karen Dyke, being of not quite sound mind and short body, do hereby leave to Wisty my flag poles since she tries to take them anyway, to Vern my ripped jeans to add to her valuable collection, to Judith a high school class shorter than she is! (J/K Judith, I know. I'm shorter than you.) To Angela lots of "patients", to Heather a purple MRD golf shirt, to Terry- to be principal within ten years or die, to Carol- good luck and success in teaching, to Mark a stacked refrigerator, to Scott a year of non-ticketed parking, and to Jen official adoption in my family and the next baby duck named after her.

I, Wen-Chia Mary Lee, of psychotic mind, leave my marching spot to Kerrie, my cast and sling to my little sister Sherry, and my picture to my mirror image. To Stef B. and Crystal W., I leave the memories of my faithful "Macmobile". To Becky, I leave the title of being the "phi-nest Ho". To the guard, I leave jazz-runs galore and all that mud in the back of the field and where we practice at. And last but not least, I leave my baby all my love.

I, Jason Brooks, being of no mind and mediocre body, leave Corey Koch one bottemless pitcher of Mokon's and a barmaid at JM'S who knows how to tell good blonde jokes.

I Paul Gillispie being of not so sound mind and we're not discussing my body, do hereby leave the following things to the following people. Non-graduating mellophones my fingering chart.
