About JMU

Since then, it has grown into today's coeducational and comprehensive university with an enrollment approaching approximately 16,000 students and a faculty and staff of over 3,000. Expanding upon its 605 acres in the beautiful Shenandoah Valley, the JMU campus is home to over 100 buildings, including a new Athletic Performance Center (2005) and Biotechnology Building. Plans for a new Performing Arts facility are currently under way. James Madison University is recognized repeatedly by national publications as one of the finest institutions of its type in America.
